This story is an autobiography revised from the first volume but in more detail and accuracy it takes you through the life's journey of an African-American woman's battle with Chronic Mental Illness. The story spans her early years from birth and to the present and it culminates to her present circumstances and experiences as she provides her reader with an overview of her initial volume I edition with a snippet of the introduction. The present title deals with perceived rejection she feels from others on a daily basis. She candidly discusses how being overlooked and misunderstood by friends, adopted family, co-workers and others results in her the consumer feeling left out of things. She ends the story with a touching acknowledgement of who the Lord is to her giving him all the honor and glory and praise for what he has done for her in her recovery. She talks about her adoption into the Hartman family and she ends with a note on the lessons she has learned in life. She also talks about her latest diagnosis with ADHD some activities...
