Excerpt: . chapter xix Early events in senatorial career--Failure to arrive at working agreement with La Follette over patronage--Requests for aid for La Follette presidential campaign--Convention of 1908--The La Follette platform--Nomination of Taft--The senatorial campaign of 1908--Announcement of my candidacy. T the outset of my service in the Senate the prog ress of political events was smooth enough. One of the first men to congratulate me upon my election was Assemblyman Warner who, Senator La Follette had said, was opposed to me in 1905. On the day after the election Senator La Follette himself telegraphed his congratulations and a week or two later he wrote to me in the friendliest possible vein, saying, among other things: My dear Senator: It is good to write that down and to know that nothing can ever change it. At last after a quarter of a century justice has...
