C.; October The age of a tree is told by the number of its rings; and as each year s layer of green wood is added the inner layers become more compact and firm. So each year in the history of our college is marked by a broadening-out and by an inner development. It is apparent that last year s ring was a broad one for we begin this year with a number of advantages which last year could not show. We have a fine new dormitory a spacious wing to Mclver, wide cement pavements in place of narrow board walks, new combination post office boxes, a handsome roomy office for the registrar, a beautiful new grand piano, a splendid college newspaper and a large number of new faculty. Let us be as worthy as we are proud of our new possessions, and perhaps this year s ring will even excede last year s. College spirit is invisible and intangible but it should...
